wide-angle lens and a 7mp depth-sensing lens, which can both be used to take photos of the same area. this dual-camera system allows you to take photos of a scene using the two cameras simultaneously. the iphone 8 also has a new live photo mode, which allows the user to take a still photo and then add a timer, a flashlight, or a burst of audio to it for a photo with additional context. not all of the cases fit in the same way, with different halves extending in different directions. most required two hands to install, which is somewhat inconvenient. but some were super easy to get on, like the waterfall and twinkle. others were more awkward to put on because of the way the pieces were attached. and even if there wasnt a bulky lip on the case to obstruct your fingers, the edges of the cases themselves have sharp corners that can scrape your fingers if youre not careful. make sure to cover up the

exposed edges of the iphone x as much as possible, and stop the cases from touching any small parts of the phone.

however, before you go out and buy one, you should know a few things about this case that can potentially lead to trouble. firstly, the case isnt completely wireless, as you have to put the iphone in the case before it and take it out again. this step can get tedious if you frequently use your phone to make calls, but if youre careful you can avoid scratching the case by gently laying the iphone on a case with a similar shape as the one you have. the shop, billed by apple as apple care for design, includes a set of plans for almost every popular iphone and ipad including the iphone 7 and iphone x. you can take a look at 20,000 designs on a mobile app to start creating your own plan, or use the home, kitchen, bathroom, and living room plans created by apple designers. after you find a design that you like, you just go to your local apple authorized reseller to have it created. the cost of the plan starts at $35 for iphone 7 and increases to $75 for the iphone x. the gadget is known as a double-d glass, which is produced by the top toughened glass shipper in the world, libeco, and the russian glass producer evian. this glass also is known as safety glass for its ability to shatter into minute, harmless pieces if it breaks. safety glass can be far more expensive than tempered glass, as libeco states that its its closer to producing clear safety glass than it is to producing tempered glass. safety glass is also very scratch-resistant and can even turn a chip into a flaw, making it difficult for anyone from your family to see. this glass looks good too, due to its deeper color compared to regular glass. the darker color blend better with the color of the iphone. the clear edges allow light to come through, keeping your hands cool.
