I wrote a script which finds and extracts a figure from a bunch of text. It works fine. If I run it as a shell script, it works fine. However if I run the same script as an automator workflow, it doesn't find any figures. I've done some searching and I've tried placing the script in the files folder and then running the service as per this. I've also tried several other methods. But the result is the same: the script is running. But it doesn't find any figures. In the logs it looks like the automator can't find a figure. Which means that the extraction is failing in the script. Here is the script: from subprocess import call from bs4 import BeautifulSoup import requests # Make a request to search for images url = " results = requests.get(url) results.encoding = 'utf-8' soup = BeautifulSoup(results.text) # Get the figure from the 2nd list of results images = soup.select('figcaption > div > a > img') figures = [i.string for i in images] print 'Some figures for us to find: %s' %
